

Pam Mundy is a passionate advocate for teaching, learning and leadership – and the significant impact that the earliest years have on children’s life, learning and their future world. She is also a member of the UK Curriculum Foundation, Director of International Early Years, an Advisory Board member for ‘Mighty Creatives’, a UK Government sponsored organisation focused on the cultural and holistic life of the child and Chairs the Advisory Board for the Chatmore British International Schools in Bermuda.

Pam provides professional development, challenge, support and strategic guidance for a wide range of 2-18 schools, Early Childhood settings, government agencies and Ministries of Education nationally and internationally (currently in the United States, Kazakhstan, Brunei, South America, Chile, South Korea, South East Asia, China, Africa, India, the UAE and Oman, Singapore, Indonesia, Europe, Egypt, Turkey and the United Kingdom). Her focus is on leadership, learning, teaching, curriculum and assessment from 0-18. Pam ensures that she spends time learning directly from children and the adults who support their learning – the most inspirational aspect of her work!

Previously a teacher, head teacher in the UK and internationally and Principal Adviser for Early Years and Primary Schools in West Sussex Local Authority, England, she worked with the British Government Department for Education on the development and writing of the 2008 Early Years Foundation Stage Profile and led the development of the national EYFSP Moderator Accreditation programme. She works closely with the DfE on Foundation Years policy – including the new 2012 EYFS Framework, the 2013 Early Years Profile Assessment and is working on the current redevelopment of the Early Years Learning Outcomes, Early Years Framework and Assessment process.
